195 DAYS - FIVE OF WHICH ARE TO BE PUPIL OCCASIONAL HOLIDAYS

Staff have five training days per year. These are also called 'pupil occasional holidays'. If staff do training outside of normal school hours, this also counts towards their total training time. When staff do the equivalent of a full day's training outside of school hours, then one of the five pupil occasional holidays is also a holiday for the staff. This is because the staff have already put in the hours.
